Biographical Sketch

Mildred Kittell Ray (“The Postcard Lady”) was born in Halstead, Kansas, on September 22, 1895. She attended school at Westport High in Kansas City, Missouri, graduated from Canyon City High School in Colorado, and attended the Kansas State Teachers’ School in Emporia. After teaching in several Kansas City schools, she married Sam Ray in 1918 and the couple had three children. Mrs. Ray wrote a weekly column for the Kansas City Times and Kansas City Star entitled "A Postcard from Old Kansas City" that was based on the historical images of Kansas City found in her extensive postcard collection; her thoroughly researched and highly popular column ran from 1968 to 1991. When she died in 1996 at the age of 100, Mrs. Ray’s collection of postcards was left to the Missouri Valley Room where she conducted most of her research. The album’s creator, Peggy Smith, was a librarian in the Missouri Valley Room with whom Mrs. Ray developed a rapport while researching her columns and the two remained friendly in the years after her column ended.
