This collection contains information about Kansas City area churches and synagogues gathered by Mrs. Olive Hoggins during the 1920s. Mrs. Hoggins used her research in the publication of a column known as the “Centenary History of Kansas City Churches” which appeared in the Kansas City Post newspaper.

Publication note: These papers were associated with the church history articles written by Mrs. Hoggins and published in the Kansas City Post in the late 1920s.

Acquisition information: Unknown. This collection may have been a part of other materials associated with the Missouri Valley Historical Society that were obtained possibly from the Kansas City Museum at some point in the circa 1950s.

Custodial history: The Centenary History of Kansas City Churches was sponsored by the Missouri Valley Historical Society and Mrs. Hoggins may have left her papers with them after completing her research. She also was instrumental in starting the Kansas City Museum in 1939-40 and at one time was to have lived in the building. She may have left these papers with the museum at that time. It is believed that while Richard Sealock was director of the library (1950-1968), some sort of arrangement was made between the Kansas City Public Library and the Kansas City Museum which brought these materials to the library. The Missouri Valley Historical Society records are found in SC7.

Collection Description

Biographical/Historical note

Olive Laing Hoggins was born circa 1874 in Georgia, the daughter of a physician. She graduated from Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Georgia, and taught school in both Georgia and South Carolina before moving to Missouri. She married Robert Hoggins and they apparently had no children. Mrs. Hoggins died in 1942 in the Kansas City area.

Besides the extensive research she did for the local church histories, she was also noted as being an early advocate for the formation of the Kansas City Museum. According to a local newspaper article, she lived on the second floor of the R.A. Long home just before it became the Kansas City Museum. Here she worked tirelessly toward seeing the museum become a reality. Three bronze plaques were dedicated at the museum in 1952 and her name was on one of them. (Information obtained from newspaper article, “A Woman's Vision Founded the Project of Kansas City Museum,” Kansas City Star, May 25, 1952, p. 8C.)

It appears that the Missouri Valley Historical Society sponsored the centenary history of Kansas City churches with work starting in the early 1920s. Olive Hoggins was the compiler and writer, probably intending to publish a book with the material. However, it seems that the material was only published in the Saturday church page of the Kansas City Post, starting it appears in 1927.

Scope and content note

This collection contains what appear to be Mrs. Hoggins’ personal files that contain research to be used in her writing. Included in these files are newspaper clippings, photographs, edited versions of congregational histories, various church bulletins and publications, correspondence concerning her research as well as the publication of the work, and other miscellaneous types of notes and material. The photographs are of both area churches as well as area ministers of the time.

It seems apparent when going through the material that parts of it are perhaps missing. Denominations starting with the beginning of the alphabet, i.e. Baptist, Catholics, do not have as much material and as files listed later in the alphabet as Methodists and Presbyterians. Also included are a few files on charitable organizations as the Red Cross, City Union Mission, etc.

Boxes 1-6 contain files on individual denominations and congregations within them and are arranged in alphabetical order by denominational name. Box 7 contains correspondence maintained by Mrs. Hoggins and is arranged in chronological order. Other miscellaneous items are also in this box as the Urban League Pilot, V.1#1, June 1927 - V.2#12, November 1928, incomplete. Box 8 contains photographs. In this box, churches are arranged first and are in alphabetical order by denominations. Individual ministers are found next, arranged alphabetically by last name.

Although most all the churches mentioned were in Kansas City, there are also some included from Independence, Missouri, as well as occasionally from other suburban areas. Area African American churches are also included.
Note: The articles as they appeared in the Post have been photocopied and bound and are available in Special Collections classed as MVSC Q 096 H71H, v.1-2.
